MEMORANDUM FOR: Deputy Director of Research and Development
SUBJECT: Dinner-Meeting, 12 October 1965

1. The first dining-in meeting was very successful. The key criteria were evident:

- a) an interesting topic well presented;
- b) a speaker whose credential was known and accepted as outstanding; and,
- c) a brief cocktail hour before the meeting.

2. Additionally I might suggest the following:

- a) begin the dinners promptly;
- b) center the attention on the speaker and set his time for presentation at about one half hour, with about a half hour for questions.

3. Topics of interest:
